Transparent protective glass for desks and counters

Acrylic glass covers for counters and desks help to protect and hygiene employees serving customers, while not limiting visibility for both sides.

Our simple countertop glass system was created for service points in public institutions, pharmacies, banks or sales points, where transparent protective barriers on counters are simply necessary to protect employees and customers.

SCREEN WITH PROTECTIVE FOIL

Free-standing wall barrier

Mobile protective screen with transparent foil applied to the frame.

Lightweight, aluminum wall partitioning with durable, replaceable PVC foil with a thickness of 0.7 mm.

Possible print with the logo or relevant information for customers.

Light and easy to install Protective barrier

Use the One Position wall design to create a transparent protective screen between employees and clients. The lightness and mobility of the protective screen will allow you to place it anywhere: the protective walls will be used in the office, but also in reception areas, shops or in consultation points and offices. The Mantis hygienic barrier screen will allow you to quickly and easily separate service areas or create an additional barrier at customer service points.

SUSPENDED PROTECTIVE FOIL

Transparent cover on the slats

Suspended, transparent protective foil, 0.7 mm thick, attached to snap-on, anodized profiles.

Economical solution and easy to disassemble or replace.

Mounting on links.

Possible print with the logo or relevant information for customers.

A window can be included for service.

Quick solutions for protective partitions

Suspended partitions are a quick and temporary solution, but the use of durable materials and robust design will allow you to use the suspended foil also in the long run. Transparent, thick foil provides very good visibility without interfering with daily duties at the workplace and communication. It is mounted between two aluminum latch slats, thanks to which it hangs in one place after hanging. The hanging protective cover is mounted on the cables included in the kit.
